

Administration Officer Part-time December 2024

About

London Sinfonietta is at the forefront of contemporary arts in the UK and internationally. We are one of the world's finest contemporary music ensembles with a reputation built on cutting-edge programming and virtuosic performances. Founded in 1968, we have commissioned over 470 new works and premiered hundreds more. We always seek to inspire more people with the sound of new music - across contemporary classical, jazz and experimental music - at venues including contemporary arts spaces, electronic music venues, international concert halls, and in community settings.

We are resident at London's Southbank Centre and an Artistic Associate at Kings Place, and we have an extensive catalogue of recordings. We develop new talent from school projects through to early career professionals, ensuring the next generation of contemporary music creators thrives. We break new ground in the digital sphere, and have created a suite of apps with musician Steve Reich, and launched our own digital channel.

We believe that contemporary arts and music are relevant to all people's lives, and commission and produce work that addresses issues affecting modern society, to connect with wider audiences and engage their imaginations. In 2021, we pioneered in the UK the first ever entirely bicycle-powered classical concert, working with theatre director Katie Mitchell in the staging of Laura Bowler's Houses Slide. More recently we staged Alicia Jane Turner's one-person opera Tell me when you get home with an all-female and non-binary creative team, which explored gendered experiences of walking home alone at night. We regularly collaborate with artists from other genres, and have also worked extensively with our visual artists and animators.

Our participation and learning work has gone from strength to strength over the past 35 years, and we were the first orchestra in the UK to begin a programme of work in this area. We reach thousands of people a year via public participation opportunities at concerts and events, schools and community engagment (both live and online) including our Sound Out concerts and Composition Challenge workshops, and concerts involving the public on stage with us.

Our talent development programmes provide world-class training to early career musicians through our side-by-side projects and composers are supported on our recurring Writing the Future scheme which is supporting and producing the work of four music creators including those from non-classical and diverse backgrounds.

We take positive action in relation to artist representation. In 2021-22, our new commissions came from 52% men and 48% women, with 24% representing the Global Majority backgrounds, and our public participation work actively engages underrepresented groups to perform with us on-stage.
